An Invasion Not Found In History Books

Post Script to the cover story printed in the January 1989 Gram

By James Martin Davis

With the capture of Okinawa during the summer of 1945, the Americans in the Pacific had finally obtained what the allies in Europe had enjoyed all along — a large island capable of being used as a launching platform for invasion.

Following the cessation of hostilities with Germany, millions of American soldiers, sailors and airmen were being redeployed to the Pacific for the anticipated invasion of Japan. The center of this immense military buildup and the primary staging area for the invasion was the island of Okinawa.

American military planners knew that the invasion of Japan would be a difficult military undertaking. Japan had never been successfully invaded in its history.

Six and one-half centuries before, an invasion had been attempted and failed. That invasion had striking similarities to the one being planned by the Americans in the summer of 1945.

In the year 1281 A.D., two magnificent Chinese fleets set sail for the Empire of Japan. Their purpose was to launch a massive invasion on the Japanese home islands and to conquer Japan in the name of the Great Mongol Emperor, Kublai Khan.

Sailing from China was the main armada, consisting of 3,500 ships and over 100,000 heavily armed troops. Sailing ships from ports in Korea was a second impressive fleet of 900 ships, containing 42,000 Mongol warriors.

In the summer of that year, the invasion force sailing from Korea arrived to the western shores of the southernmost Japanese island of Kyushu. The Mongols maneuvered their ships into position and methodically launched their assault on the Japanese coast.

Like human surf, wave after wave of these Oriental soldiers swept ashore at Hagata Bay, where they were met on the beaches by thousands of Japanese defenders who had never had their homeland successfully invaded.

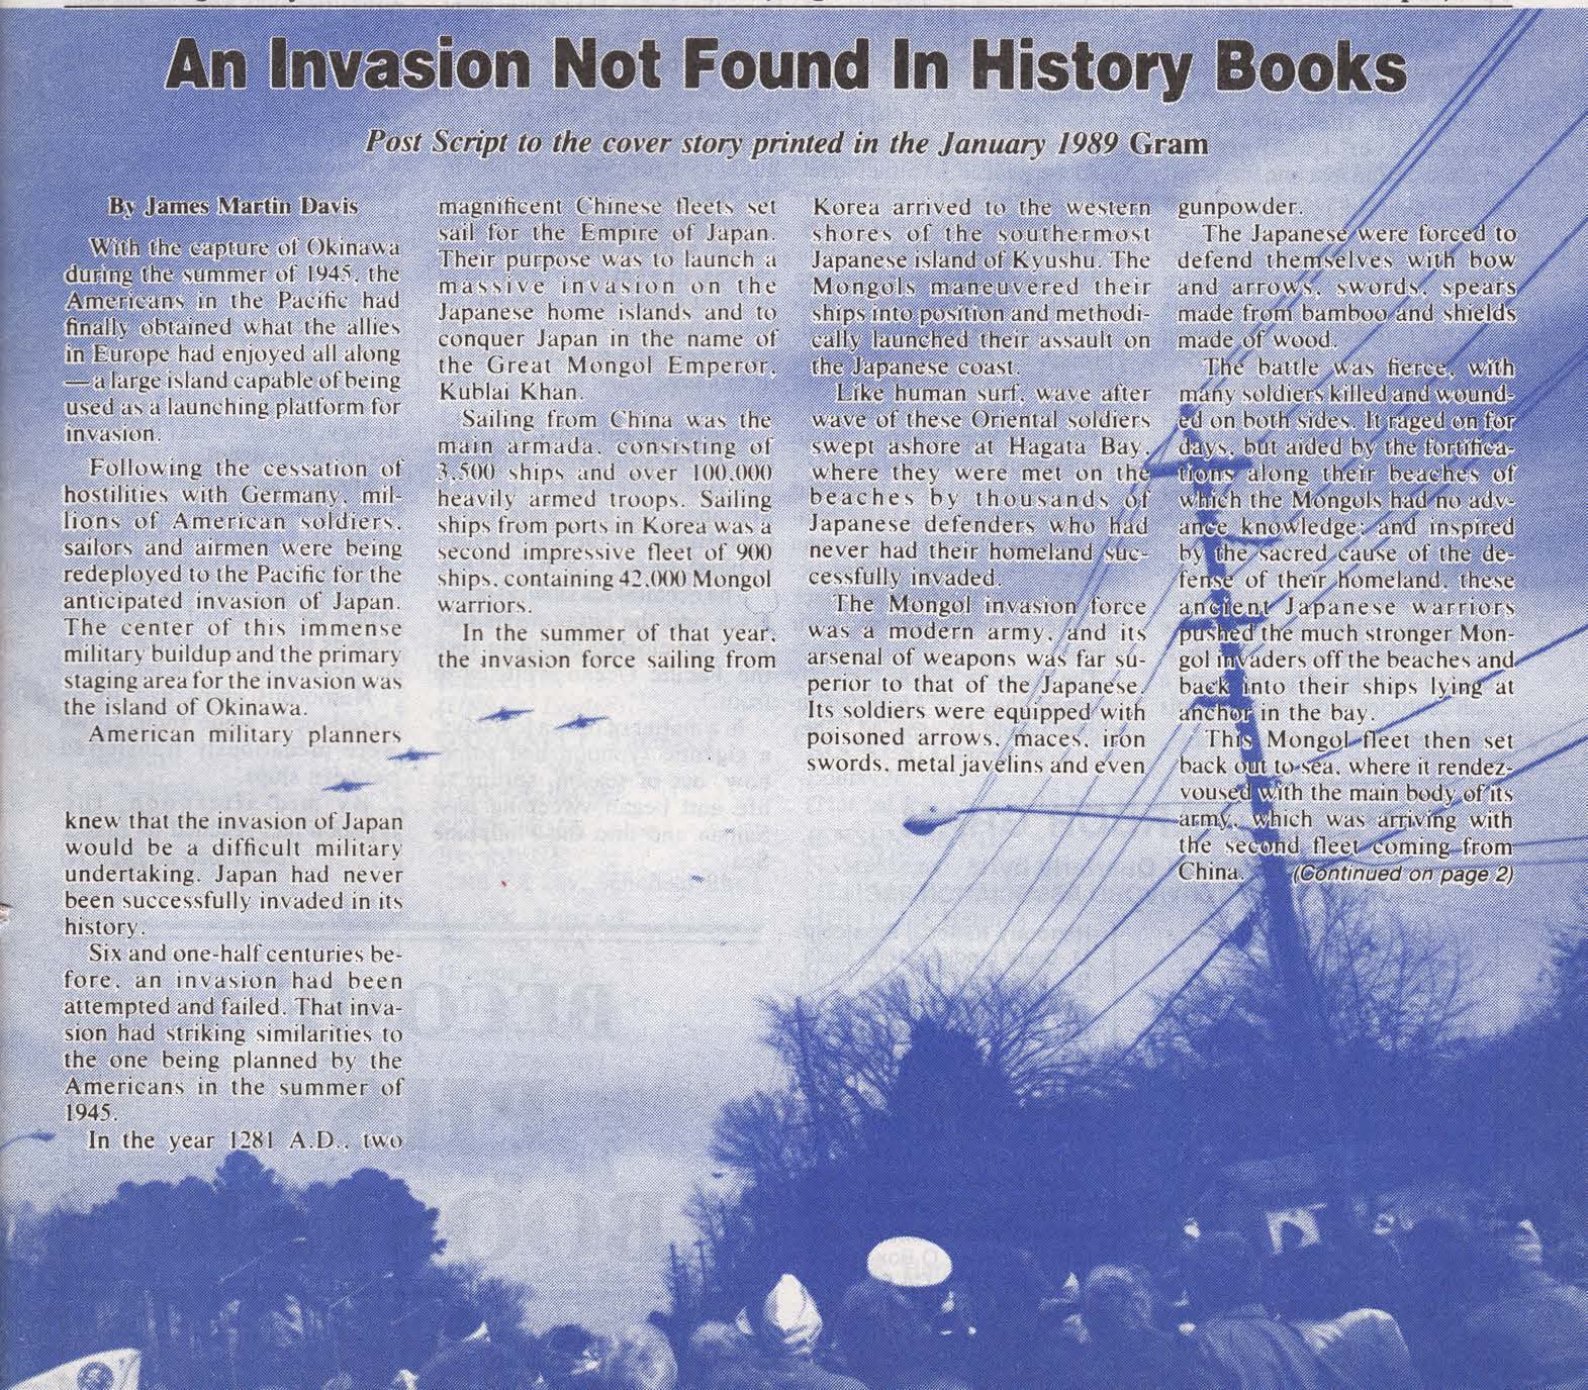

The Mongol invasion force was a modern army, and its arsenal of weapons was far superior to that of the Japanese. Its soldiers were equipped with poisoned arrows, maces, iron swords, metal javelins and even gunpowder.

The Japanese were forced to defend themselves with bow and arrows, swords, spears made from bamboo and shields made of wood.

The battle was fierce, with many soldiers killed and wounded on both sides. It raged on for days, but aided by the fortifications along their beaches of which the Mongols had no advance knowledge; and inspired by the sacred cause of the defense of their homeland, these ancient Japanese warriors pushed the much stronger Mongol invaders off the beaches and back into their ships lying at anchor in the bay.

This Mongol fleet then set back out to sea, where it rendezvoused with the main body of its army, which was arriving with the second fleet coming from China. (Continued on page 2)

Invasion Not Found . . .

All over Japan elaborate Shinto ceremonies were performed at shrines, in the cities and in the countryside.

Hundreds of thousands of Japanese urged on by the Emperor, their warlords and other officials prayed to their Shinto gods for deliverance from the foreign invaders. A million Japanese voices called upward for divine intervention.

Miraculously, as if in answer to their prayers, from out of the south a savage typhoon sprang up and headed toward Kyushu.

Its powerful wind screamed up the coast where they struck the Mongol's invasion fleet with full fury, wreaking havoc on the ships and on the men onboard.

The Mongol fleet was devastated. After the typhoon had passed, over 4,000 invasion craft had been lost and the Mongol casualties exceeded 100,000 men.

All over Japan, religious services and huge celebrations were held. Everywhere, tumultuous crowds gathered in thanksgiving to pay homage to the "divine wind" that had saved their homeland from foreign invasion. At no time thereafter has Japan been successfully invaded. The Japanese fervently believed that it was this "divine wind" that would forever protect them.

During the summer of 1945, another powerful armada was being assembled to assault the same western coastline on the island of Kyushu, where six and a half centuries earlier the Mongols had been repelled.

The American invasion plans for Kyushu, scheduled for November 1, 1945, called for a floating invasion force of 14 army and marine divisions to be transported by ship to hit the western, eastern and southern shoreline of Kyushu.

This shipboard invasion force would consist of 550,000 combat soldiers, tens of thousands of sailors and hundreds of naval aviators.

The assault fleet would consist of thousands of ships of every shape, size and description, ranging from mammoth battleships and aircraft carriers to the small amphibious craft, and they would be sailing from Okinawa, the Philippines and the Marianas.

Crucial to the success of the invasion were nearly 4,000 army, navy and marines aircraft that would be packed into the small island of Okinawa to be used for direct air support of our landing forces at the time of this invasion.

By July of 1945, the Japanese knew the Americans were planning to invade their homeland. Throughout the early summer, the Emperor and his government officials exhorted the military and civilian population to make preparations for the invasion.

Japanese radios throughout that summer cried out to the people to "form a wall of human flesh" and when the invasion began, to push the invaders back into the sea and back onto their ships.

The Japanese people fervently believed that the American invaders would be repelled. They all seemed to share a mystical faith that their country could never be invaded successfully and that they, again, would be saved by the "divine wind."

The American invasion never came, however, because the bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki, as if by a miracle, ended the war.

Almost immediately, American soldiers, sailors and airmen, in for the duration, were being discharged and sent home.

By the fall of 1945, there remained approximately 200,000 soldiers, sailors and airmen still on Okinawa.

Okinawa, which would have been the major launching platform for the invasion of Japan, was now peaceful.

In October, Buckner Bay, on the east coast of the island, was still jammed with vessels of all kinds — from Victory ships to landing craft.

On the island itself, 150,000 soldiers lived under miles of canvas, in what were referred to as "tent cities." All over the island, hundreds of tons of food, equipment and supplies stacked in immense piles lay out in the open.

During the early part of October, to the southwest of Okinawa just northeast of the Marianas, the seas were growing restless and the winds began to blow.

The ocean skies slowly turned black and the large swells that were developing began to turn the Pacific Ocean white with froth.

In a matter of only a few days, a gigantic typhoon had somehow, out of season, sprung to life and began sweeping past Saipan and into the Philippine Sea.

As the storm grew more violent, it raced northward and kicked up waves 60 feet high.

Navy meteorologists eventually became aware of the storm but they expected it to pass well between Formosa and Okinawa and to disappear into the East China Sea.

Unexplainable, on the evening of October 8, the storm changed direction and abruptly veered to the east. When it did so, there was insufficient warning to allow the ships in the harbor to get underway in order to escape the typhoon's terrible violence.

By late morning, on the 9th, rain was coming down in torrents; the seas were rising and visibility was zero. Winds, now over 80 miles per hour, blowing from the east and northeast, caused small craft in Buckner Bay to drag their anchors.

By early afternoon, the wind had risen to over 100 miles per hour, the rain coming in horizontally now was more salt than fresh and even the larger vessels began dragging their anchors under the pounding of 50 foot seas.

As the winds continued to increase and the storm unleashed its fury, the entire Bay became a scene of devastation.

Ships, dragging their anchors, collided with one another. Hundred of vessels were blown ashore.

Vessels in groups of twos and threes were washed ashore into masses of wreckage that began to accumulate on the beaches.

Numerous ships had to be abandoned, while their crews were precariously transferred between ships.

By mid-afternoon, the typhoon had reached its raging

50th Anniversary 1991 National Reunion Report

There was a letter circulated to all state chairmen by a survivor claiming he was the chairman for the 1991 National Reunion in Hawaii. Please disregard that letter, no one has been appointed to that position to date.

A committee of three, Past National President Dave Bedell, Past National Treasurer Wally Kampney, and myself went to Hawaii in October of 1988, at the expense of the Sheraton Waikiki, and the Hawaiian Village to make arrangements for the 50th reunion.

After a presentation from both hotels, it was the feeling of the committee that the Sheraton made us the better presentation for several reasons. Cheaper prices for rooms, better access to the main section of Waikiki, lower costs for food and meals, larger banquet room, plus they would reserve more rooms for the association.

This was presented to the convention floor in Virginia Beach, VA, this past December and also to the Executive Board and they voted in favor of the committee's selection.

The committee also suggested something new and that is we do not go through a travel agency this time for Hawaii, but deal directly with the Sheraton Hotel. They will give us an 800 number so that you can make your own reservations at no cost to you.

Also, the hotel works closely with American Airlines and suggested we work with them in our plans for 1991. There will also be an 800 number in Hawaii, so you can make your own reservations through the Sheraton at a cheaper cost to you.

We have 500 rooms reserved at the Sheraton and 300 at the Princess Kaiulani, just down the street from the Sheraton. Rooms are available at the Royal Hawaiian and the Moana Hotels at more expensive rates.

Arrangements can be made through the Sheraton when making reservations for outer island trips. We will keep you posted in each issue of the Gram.

We are going to make the price right for each of you this time around. The reunion registration fees will be kept reasonable and the package you wish will be left up to you to take just what you want.

Aloha,
Ken Creese
National President

From the Editor's Desk

Photos are elsewhere in this Gram.

All who were not at Virginia Beach missed a very good national convention. John Korba and all of his helpers did an excellent job.

At the general meeting December 5, as our National Officers, we elected President Ken Creese, Vice President Gerald Glaubitz, Secretary Robert McClintock, and Treasurer William Eckel.

The memorial services on December 7, at the Pavilion Memorial were very inspiring.

The banquet dinner was very good with shrimp appetizers, followed by prime rib and vegetables.

I was inundated with speeches given by Survivors at various memorial services around the country. Space would not permit publishing.

In the January 1989 Gram, the poem "America at War," was submitted by Zeb Burney, 615 So. 17th, Chickasha, OK 73018.

If you like poetry, you should enjoy "Conformed From the Ways of Life" advertised in this Gram.

On pages 17 and 18, 23 and 24, you will find the updated National Constitution and By-Laws. Those pages have been perforated so that you can tear them out and keep handy for ready reference.

Survivors Speak Out At National Cemetery

By William J. Miller
National Capitol Area
Chapter 1

The Pearl Harbor memorial plaque at Arlington National Cemetery was, for the fifth straight year, the site of a December Seventh ceremony held December 7, 1988, by survivors of the battle from Northern Virginia and the District of Columbia.

Key moment of the event was the placing of a white orchid on the plaque by retired Army colonel Henry Dettmar (Hickam Field).

Preceding this was a segment in which 12 survivors stepped forward to the speaker's stand and after identifying themselves gave a brief account of their location the morning of the seventh and their response to the sneak air strike.

Principal speakers were retired Navy captain Frank Costagliola (USS Phoenix) and retired Air Force Colonel Jean Lambert (Bellows Field).

Admiral Thomas Moorer —

former chief of naval operations — also addressed the group of survivors, families and friends. His subject was preparedness . . . then and now.

At the time of the attack, his duty station was the heavily hit naval air station on the harbor's Ford Island.

As with other such memorial ceremonies nationwide, there was considerable interest by the news media. Reports have come in of scenes at Arlington having appeared on screens in the South and the West Coast; the result of the major television networks having sent the event nationwide for regional pickup.

The survivors were supported in the ceremony by members of the Naval Order of the U.S. Retired captain James F. Brooke, II, USNR, was in charge of that portion of the ceremony.

It was highlighted by the placing of a large memorial wreath at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. A party of three survivors and three Naval Order members took part in this latter function.

Report From The National Vice President

I wish to take this opportunity to thank all those who campaigned and voted for me for National Vice President at Virginia Beach, VA.

I pledge to each of you that I will do everything in my power to serve you and promote our motto, "Remember Pearl Harbor — Keep America Alert."

If I can be of any service to you, please don't hesitate to contact me.

Yours in PHSA,
Gerald Glaubitz
National Vice President

SURVIVORS RECALL THE FALLEN

'May These Memories . . . Not Be In Vain'

By Paul Sussman

VIRGINIA BEACH — On their dark blue, white and gold hats, they wore their past. Stitched on writing identified them not only as Pearl Harbor survivors, but also as survivors from the ships St. Louis and Aylwin, from Wheeler Field and Schofield Barracks.

On their wrists, many at the Tidewater Veterans Memorial wore watches. Watches checked frequently for a memorial ceremony that would start at 12:50 p.m. — 47 years, to the minute, after the Japanese launched a sneak attack on U.S. forces in Hawaii.

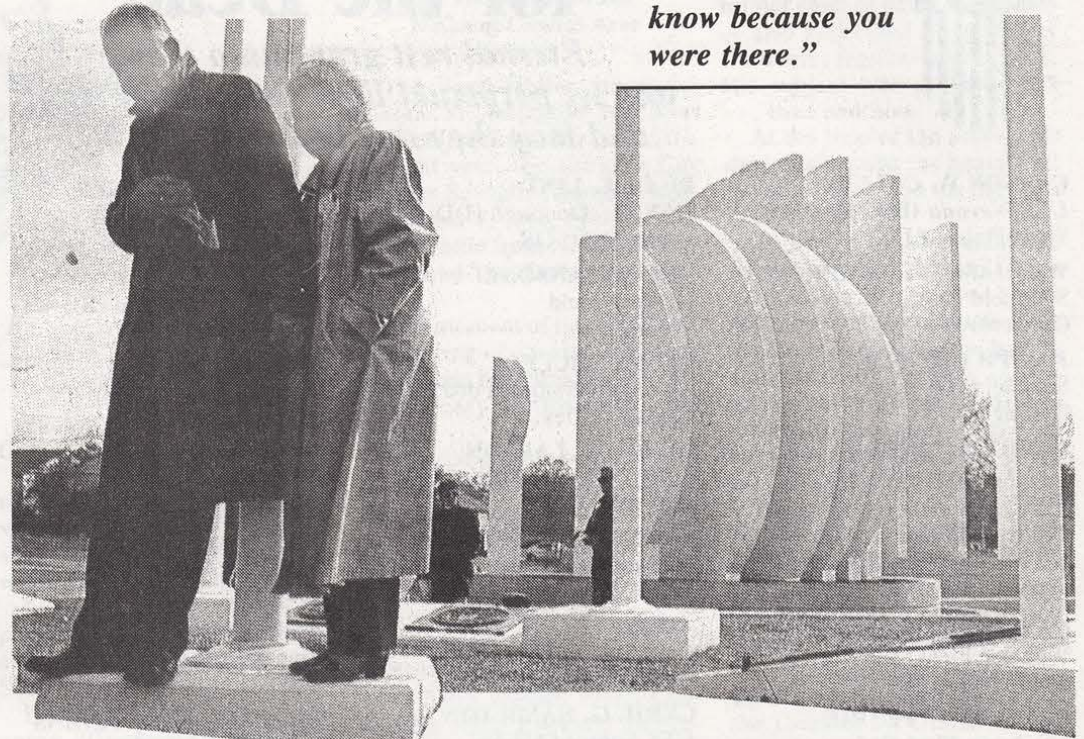

And on their sleeves, the men wore their emotions.

"May the tears that run down your cheeks today honor your shipmates who now sleep," Navy Chaplain Capt. John H. Kaelberer said. "May these memories of your sacrifices — and theirs — not be in vain."

"It's the moment that always pulls the throat a little tighter," said David Bedell of North Huntingdon, PA, the outgoing president of the Pearl Harbor Survivors Association.

The service was the centerpiece of the association's convention, which concludes this morning. About 1,000 people gathered in cool sunshine for a ceremony full of military trappings.

A Navy band played patriotic songs. Four Pearl Harbor survivors formed a paunchy but proud color guard. Military chaplains offered prayers and blessed a wreath decorated with red and white carnations. A Marine rifle team fired off a salute. Two Navy trumpeters played "Taps."

Retired Navy Capt. James A. Mulligan, a former prisoner of war in Vietnam, was the featured speaker. He called Pearl Harbor "the most significant event of this nation's history during this century."

First, he said, it steeled the national will to enter World War

II.

"Pearl Harbor made that war a just war for the United States, a war with the full effort of an entire nation and its people," Mulligan said. "A war to win. And to win unconditionally . . . 'Let's remember Pearl Harbor' was on every billboard, every poster, in every speech, at every war bond rally."

The change in national attitude outlasted the war, Mulligan said.

America went from an isolationist nation to one that became a "senior partner of the free nations of the world," he said.

"Upon that Day of Infamy, the 7th of December 1941, you were the spark that ignited the flame of hope for a free and a better world," Mulligan told the crowd. "In our hearts, we all know that freedom is our most

"In our hearts, we all know that freedom is our most precious possession. You paid the full price. You know because you were there."

precious possession. You paid the full price. You know because you were there. And yes, on that day, you truly made history."

Let the record show that on this Dec. 7, the Army, Navy and Marine veterans were ready for the planes. The memorial service ended about 1:20 p.m., about 10 minutes ahead of schedule. A flyover by Navy jets was scheduled for 1:30.

So everyone peered east down 19th Street and waited.

"There they are," said John Korba of Virginia Beach, the convention chairman. "There they are. They're A6s."

The jets passed, their roar replaced by cheers. The activities were over, but the veterans were slow to leave. Age might have slowed a few. Others were nabbed for interviews by the national and local media.

After a few minutes, someone jumped up to the microphone.

"Look," he said, gesturing to skies clouding above the veterans memorial. "Look, there's a rainbow around the sun."

Forgive the Pearl Harbor survivors if the only colors they saw were red, white and blue.

WHITE CAPS

Captain Anna Urda Busby, National Chairmanwoman, White Caps, reports she had a wonderful vacation last fall in Kitty Hawk, D.C., and Gaithersburg with her family and friends.

At the Pearl Harbor reunion, 47th anniversary convention held in Virginia Beach, Dec. 4-8, 1998, three White Caps met. Anna, Celeste Pilvelis and Helene Grazioso, her first PHSA meeting.

PBS is producing a film on Pearl Harbor survivors to be shown Dec. 7, 1990. Yes, 1990. In conjunction with that production, Anna and others were interviewed several times at this reunion.

WHAT ARE THE MOST PRESSING ISSUES FACING SURVIVORS? _____

A team of New York documentary filmmakers from An American Portrait Company, added excitement to the National Convention by joining survivors at Virginia Beach.

On the chilly morning of Monday, December 6, Director Tom Johnson and his crew filmed scenes at the lively opening ceremonies of the convention, which will be included in their two-hour movie on Pearl Harbor, entitled Pearl Harbor: Surprise and Remembrance.

Johnson and his partner, Lance Bird, are known for their series of historical films on American society and culture, all of which have been shown on public television.

Pearl Harbor: Surprise and Remembrance, will air 1990 as a public television special in time for the commemoration of the 50th anniversary of the Pearl Harbor attack.

SURVIVORS INTERVIEWED

Johnson began setting up interviews with various survivors including Clarence Kindl, President of the Pearl Harbor Survivors Color Guard.

The film crew chose the gracious setting of the Cavalier Hotel, and spent the better part of the day creating their "set" on one of the sunny, enclosed back porches. Electric wires and cables were strung across the floors and special "fill" lights set up to illuminate the scene.

Unlike most television crews who shoot video, Johnson's team was shooting 400-foot reels of 16mm film which he finds easier to intercut with used footage he has found.

The director geared his interview questions around how the survivors remember the attack, their individual experiences, and how the years since Pearl have changed their memories and feelings about the event.

Kindl, who is retired from the Air Force, talked about how few people today know much, if anything, about the attack. Kindl has taken the initiative in his own community by speaking to school groups about Pearl Harbor, using his own experiences as a basis for discussion.

PRODUCERS SEEK SURVIVORS' HELP

LIGHTS! CAMERA! ACTION!

The filmmakers are looking for survivors who have saved mementos from their Pearl Harbor days, such as snapshots and home movies. (See announcement elsewhere in the Gram.)

To help locate these articles, Johnson and his crew brought stacks of questionnaires to the convention headquarters in the new Cavalier Oceanfront Hotel. Survivors who happened by filled out the information and chatted with the filmmakers about the movie.

SURVIVORS FILMED AT NORFOLK BASE

A highpoint occurred Tuesday, December 6, when a group of six survivors were invited by the filmmakers to visit the Norfolk shipyards. Special permission was arranged with the Navy to board the DG-40 guided missile destroyer, the USS Coontz, and talk with its captain, William W. Cobb, Jr.

Leading the group of survivors was district chairman Lee Goldfarb, of East Hanover, New Jersey. Joining him was Ray Hechler, Stephen Yorden, Charles W. Mallon, Jerry Glaubitz and Carl Kaupp.

As the camera rolled, survivors exchanged anecdotes with the captain about life in the military, and how an experience like Pearl Harbor affected their lives. "I grew up overnight," said Goldfarb of the attack. "It changed all of us."

Johnson sent a second camera crew over to the Victory Dining Room at the Sheraton Hotel in Virginia Beach, where VP-22 Patrol Squadron was hosting a reunion dinner.

Cameraman Donald Lenzler circulated among the survivors, prompting their memories with a wide variety of questions about the attack itself, their personal experiences on Ford Island, and how the event feels to them now, after nearly 50 years.

Bob Campbell, one of the organizers of the reunion dinner explained that VP-22 was lucky enough to have suffered no casualties. "At first it was just like the movies," one survivor said, "it took us a moment or two to realize it was really happening."

To cap the week of intensive filming, Johnson and his crew joined representatives from the local Virginia Beach media for the December 7 memorial ceremony at the Virginia Beach Pavilion. At 12:55 p.m. sharp, which in Hawaii is 7:55 a.m., the time the attack started, all cameras were pointed at the sky to film the highlight of the ceremony.

Suddenly, with a tremendous roar of jet engines, a group of military planes rushed over the heads of the crowds in the "missing man" formation, in which one plane breaks off from the rest and soars up and away to represent the brave men who died in their attempt to defend Pearl Harbor.

In addition to the footage shot at the convention, the filmmakers have also recorded the annual ceremonies at the USS Arizona Memorial in Hawaii.

Johnson and Bird are now planning a trip to Japan to further their archival research and conduct interviews with Japanese scholars and participants whose memories of the attack remain as vivid as those of their American counterparts.

The Japanese perspective will thus enrich and broaden the story of how the attack on Pearl Harbor is understood and remembered.

"This kind of filmmaking is like archaeology," said Johnson, "the deeper you dig, the more riches you discover and the more compelling a story you can tell."

A Message From The Editor

The people responsible for the advertisement on the opposite side of this page requested a copy of our membership list, including names, addresses and ships or stations. Our by-laws prohibit furnishing such lists.

They are particularly looking for survivors who were on USS Ward, Helm or Monaghan, when they fired on the mini-sub, as well as survivors who were at Bellows Field when the mini-sub was pulled from the water.

If you were an eyewitness to these events, be sure to complete the questionnaire and on it point out that you were an eyewitness to either of these events.

They also want to hear from survivors from the Key West, Florida area who have seen the mini-sub at the Florida Naval Base.

All survivors are urged to complete the questionnaire and return it to the address given. We will all want to see this two-hour telecast on December 7, 1990, on PBS Television. Let's all help these people as much as possible.

Many survivors have sent me memories that they have written. I must have 50 or more now, and may use five or six in a year's time. Write up those memories of what you did December 7, 1941, and attach it to the questionnaire. Send them to someone who is begging for that information.

Memorial Services At U.S. Naval Weapons Depot, Seal Beach, CA

A Speech By Tom Hennessey Reporter for the Long Beach Press Telegram

As one who did not take part in World War Two, I feel awkward and a bit astonished to be a part of this ceremony.

But I am grateful for your kind invitation to come here for the privilege of sharing this moment, this 47th anniversary with those of you who were at Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941.

There is nothing I can tell you about that Sunday or about that war.

You know, far better than I, what happened that day.

You know, far better than I, what happened in the more than 1,000 days that followed, in the Pacific Theater.

You know, far better than I, what happened in those places that became terrible household words; Coral Sea and Midway, Guadalcanal and Okinawa, Iwo Jima and Leyte Gulf.

So, instead of my talking about a war I did not see and did not fight, let me share with you a recent experience.

Last month, I had the privilege of visiting Tarawa, atoll in the Central Pacific, in the company of 27 men with whom all of you have something in common.

Like you members of the Pearl Harbor Survivors Association and you submarine veterans, they, too, once faced enemy fire in the Pacific. And in November, 1943, they survived the grim and bloody 76-hour battle of Tarawa.

There were many touching moments during their return to Tarawa, last month, especially when they stood at a sea wall and dropped flowers into the lagoon where, 45 years ago, hundreds of their brothers had been machine-gunned to death.

But the most memorable moment of the trip did not occur on Tarawa. It occurred on the airplane that took us away from Tarawa.

Shortly after the plane took off, a flight attendant, who could not have been more than 22, sat down beside me. She asked who the passengers were and what they were doing more than 5,000 miles from the west coast of the United States.

"They are Marines and Navy and Coast Guard," I told her. "They fought at Tarawa and other battles during World War Two."

"Who were they fighting?" the young woman wanted to know.

"They were fighting the Japanese," I said.

She thought about that for a moment, then turned and asked: "Who won?"

I wanted to share that story because it says, all too sadly, how far we have come — or how far we have regressed — since the days of the Second World War.

After the attack on Pearl Harbor, after being caught that Sunday morning with our defenses down, America shifted into high gear.

We produced fighting men and women.

We produced the greatest outlay of ships and planes and weapons the world had ever known.

And, by gosh, we even produced songs.

No doubt you remember one of the most stirring, one of the most inspiring of those songs. Written a few weeks after December 7, it was called, "Remember Pearl Harbor."

You had only to hear that song in those dark days to know that America had the greatest fighting spirit on earth.

You had only to hear that song to know that the people of this nation had drawn closer than they had ever been before — closer, in fact, than they may ever be again.

You had only to hear that song to know that, in the end, the United States was going to win that war no matter what.

Now, nearly a half-century has passed.

And you had only to hear that young woman ask who won the war to know that many Americans — maybe most Americans — no longer remember Pearl Harbor.

There was a time, not too many years ago, when you could not find a calendar that did not have the words, "Pearl Harbor Day," imprinted beside the date of December 7.

That time has passed. The other day, when I looked at the calendar on the kitchen wall of our home, when I looked at the date of December 7, I saw nothing about Pearl Harbor.

And the remarkable thing is that this happens to be a calendar put out every year by one of America's four service academies.

Five years ago, frankly, that kind of omission might not have troubled me.

But about that time, I met a man I have come to admire very much, a man who was aboard USS Pennsylvania on that Sunday morning when the Japanese changed the course of history.

This man told me how he had gone to his local high school one day and asked to see the history books that were being used in that school.

What he found in those history books disturbed him — and rightfully so.

There was almost no mention of Pearl Harbor. In fact, there was only the barest, most cursory treatment of World War II.

The man who went to that school is a member of the Pearl Harbor Survivors Association. His name is John Popp. And his telling me that story is the reason my wife, Debbie, and I have become involved in honoring you veterans.

It is the reason we keep doing whatever we can to tell your story to people who are too young or, regrettably, too forgetful to remember Pearl Harbor.

And to all of you in the Pearl Harbor Survivors Association, I renew the promise I made to John Popp several years ago: That as long as I have a newspaper column, no Pearl Harbor anniversary will ever pass without my writing about that terrible day in 1941.

In closing, although I do not want to sound like a politician, let me make one other promise.

As you have no doubt noted, we are approaching the 50th anniversary of what has become known as the Day of Infamy.

My promise is this: Using whatever resources I may have as a newspaper man, I pledge now to mount a campaign to have December 7, 1991, declared a national day of remembrance.

And on that day, let us hope that the story of Pearl Harbor's survivors — your story — will be told in every newspaper and every school in the nation.

And that never again will any of us hear a young American ask, "Who were they fighting?" and "Who won?"

Again, thank you for the privilege of being part of this ceremony. God bless all of you.

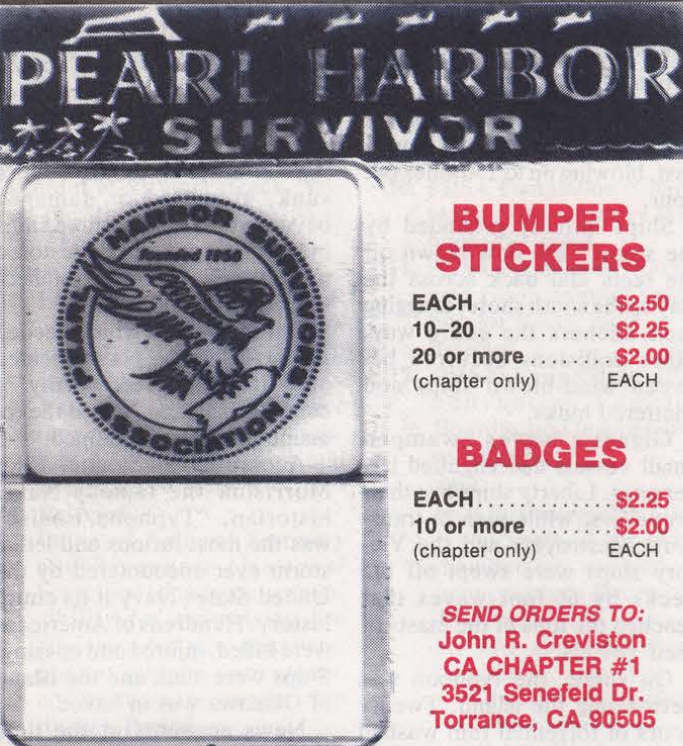

Looking For USS Jarvis Survivors

I am trying to find out the names of the wounded crewmen put off onto Tulagi after the USS Jarvis (DD 393) was hit by a torpedo at Guadalcanal August 8, 1942. I have information there were at least nine men left at the island.

The Jarvis sailed early morning August 9, 1942, for temporary repairs at Sydney, Australia, and was caught and sunk with all hands aboard about 1300 hours, 49 miles southwest of Guadalcanal.

All were my former shipmates and I am very interested in those names.

If you have any information, please write to: Charles Ramsey, 3613 Harold Dr., Corpus Christi, TX 78415.

Nebraska Pearl Harbor Gram Library

If a Nebraska Survivor wants to know about something that was published in the Pearl Harbor Gram, all he has to do is call Burt Amgwert, Nebraska State Chairman.

Burt has saved original copies of every issue of the Pearl Harbor Gram that has been published, with the exceptions of issues #3, 5, 6 and 8. His missing are the April, October 1965, January, July 1966.

For those who do not know, the first issue of the Gram was October 1964, and the first 17 issues were of the three to six page type.

To keep them from wear and hard usage, Burt has had them bound into hardbook covers with the exception of the first 17 issues.

The format and size of the Gram was changed with issues 18 to 33, which are bound into book #2. The current format and size of the Gram beginning with issue #34 (Jan. 1973) are bound 12 issues (three years) in each book.

The reason book #1 has not been bound is because Burt is trying to obtain the original copies of 3, 5, 6 and 8 issues. The editor of the Gram does not have them in his inventory, so Burt would like to contact and negotiate with any survivor member, who may have saved those early issues.

It is his intent to some day leave these hard-bound copies of the Gram to the office of the National Secretary for permanent preservation.

If any member would consider adding the missing issues to this library, please contact: Burt Amgwert, Nebraska State Chairman, 717 Dale Drive, Lincoln, NE 68510 — (402) 488-3926.

Tennessee Chapter 1 1988 Report

By W. T. Roe, President
 Tennessee Chapter 1

This has been a busy year for Tennessee Chapter 1.

The three local TV stations gave us real good coverage on Dec. 7.

We presented our Pearl Harbor Story to 700 high school students; 249 were ROTC. Charles Schwieger presented to his golfing buddies the program, 20 attended. Total for 1988 — 720.

The workers for the program were: W. T. Roe, Charles Schwieger, Tom Roth, James Sherrell, Ernest Blake and Robert Williams.

We signed up five new members, W. T. Rose 4, Ernest Blake 1. The news coverage got their attention.

I was chosen "Hero of the Week" (live interview) for our presentation of the Pearl Harbor Story at local schools and for my 28 years continued service and love for the PHSA. It was aired on Channel 9 local TV, Dec. 9, 1988, at 6:55 p.m.

We have presented our program to 150 school students, and 20 members of the Kiwanis Club. A good start for 1989.

We still meet the first Wednesday of each month, at 11:30 a.m.

Come join us if you are this way. The PEARLS are always with us.

NORTH CAROLINA CHAPTER NO. 1
PEARL HARBOR
SURVIVORS ASSOCIATION

REMEMBER PEARL HARBOR
KEEP AMERICA ALERT

By Leo Sienkiewicz
N.C. State Chairman

Along the banks of Cape Fear River in Wilmington, North Carolina, on the grounds where the USS North Carolina Battleship Memorial is located, the North Carolina Chapter No. 1, combined Veterans Day and dedicated a 3,000 pound granite stone memorial monument in memory of members of the U.S. military forces who were killed in action during the Japanese attack December 7, 1941.

The November 11 ceremonies were attended by North Carolina Governor James G. Martin, who expressed congratulations to the Chapter for erecting and dedicating the Monument and presented a "Certificate of Appreciation" to Pearl Harbor Survivors Association, North Carolina Chapter No. 1 in recognition of dedication and outstanding service to North Carolina.

Some of the highlights of the ceremonies were presenting of Colors by the 120th Infantry of U.S. National Guard, Wilmington, N.C., Pledge of Allegiance and Invocation and Blessing by Chapter's Chaplain Robert Lyerly. Brief welcome speeches by Mayor of Wilmington Don Betz, Captain Frank Conlon, U.S. Navy Retired and Chapter President Gene Kapcsandi.

The main speaker was our chapter member Brigadier General James K. Durham, Retired, who paid tribute to all veterans of December 7 attack, World War I-II, Korean War, Vietnam War and Grenada.

Unveiling of the Monument by President Kapcsandi and Vice President John Jaskowski. Floral wreath presented by Past State Chairman James West and Trustee Bill Gurganus. Taps by Jimmy Clapp, Jr.

Other distinguished guests at the ceremonies were Mrs. Patric Dorsey, N.C. Secretary of Cultural Resources, Congressional Medal of Honor recipient Mr. Rudolfo Hermandes and N.C. State Senator Franklin Block.

Over 130 survivors, wives, family and friends attended the ceremonies for which we are very grateful. State Chairman Leo Sienkiewicz was Master of Ceremonies.

At the N.C. Chapter No. 1 December 3 meeting, the following officers were installed for years 1989-1990: President John Jaskowski, Vice President John P. Fulton, Secretary-Treasurer Leo Sienkiewicz, Trustees Herman W. Hoke, Rupert "Jack" Kiker, William M. Lincoln and Chaplain Robert J. Lyerly, Jr.

Invasion . . .

peak with winds, now coming from the north and the northeast, blowing up to 150 miles per hour.

Ships initially grounded by the storm were now blown off the reefs and back across the Bay to the south shore, dragging their anchors the entire way. More collisions occurred between wind-blown ships and shattered hulks.

Gigantic waves swamped small vessels and engulfed larger ones. Liberty ships lost their propellers, while men in transports, destroyers and the Victory ships were swept off the decks by 60-foot waves that reached the tops of the masts of their vessels.

On shore, the typhoon was devastating the island. Twenty hours of torrential rain washed out roads and ruined the island's store of rations and supplies.

Aircraft were picked up and catapulted off the airfields; huge quonset huts went sailing into the air. Metal hangars were ripped to shreds, and the "tent cities," housing 150,000 troops on the island, ceased to exist.

Almost the entire food supply on the island was blown away. Americans on the island had nowhere to go but into the caves, trenches and ditches on the island in order to survive.

All over the island there were tents, boards, sections of galvanized iron being hurled through the air at over 100 miles per hour.

The storm raged over the island for hours, and then slowly headed out to sea. Then it doubled back, and two days later, howled in from the ocean and hit the island again.

On the following day, when the typhoon had finally past, dazed men crawled out of holes and caves to count the losses.

Countless aircraft had been destroyed. All power was gone, communications and supplies were nonexistent. B-29s were requisitioned to rush in tons of rations and supplies from the Marianas.

General Joseph Stillwell, the 10th Army Commander, asked for immediate plans to evacuate all hospital cases from the island. The harbor facilities were useless.

After the typhoon roared out into the Sea of Japan and started to die its slow death, the bodies began to wash ashore.

The toll on ships was staggering. Almost 270 ships were sunk, grounded or damaged beyond repair. Fifty-three ships in too bad a state to be restored to duty were decommissioned, stripped and abandoned.

Out of 90 ships which needed major repair, the Navy decided only 10 were even worthy of complete salvage, and so the remaining 80 were scrapped.

According to Samuel Eliot Morrison, the famous Naval historian, "Typhoon Louise" was the most furious and lethal storm ever encountered by the United States Navy in its entire history. Hundreds of Americans were killed, injured and missing. Ships were sunk and the island of Okinawa was in havoc.

News accounts at the time disclosed that the press and the public back home paid little attention to this storm that struck the Pacific with such force. The very existence of this storm is still a little-known fact.

Surprisingly, few people then, or even now, have made the connection that an American invasion fleet of thousands of ships, planes and landing craft, and a half million men might well have been in that exact place at that exact time, posed to strike Japan when the typhoon enveloped Okinawa and its surrounding seas.

In the aftermath of this storm, with the war now history, few people concerned themselves with the obsolete invasion plans for Japan.

However, had there been no bomb for only a matter of months, history might have repeated itself.

In the fall of 1945, in the aftermath of this typhoon, had things been different, all over Japan religious services and huge celebrations would have been held.

A million Japanese voices would have been raised upward in thanksgiving. Everywhere tumultuous crowds would have gathered in delirious gratitude to pay homage to a "divine wind" which might have once again protected their country from foreign invaders; a "divine wind" they had named centuries before, the "Kamikaze."

Idaho PHSA Memorial

By John M. Crandall
Idaho State Chairman

The idea for the Idaho PHSA Memorial came about through discussions between myself and Joe White, Second District Director, back in 1987. After clearing the idea with various state agencies concerned, we decided to go ahead with the project.

Letters were sent out to all members of the Idaho PHSA asking for donations to be used for the memorial. This took about six months before we could see our way clear to commit to the purchase of the stone.

Donations continued to come in and we were able to have the stone cut, lettered and set in the ground the latter part of September, 1988.

On December 7, 1988, we held dedication ceremonies in conjunction with memorial services and completed the project.

Our guest speaker for the ceremonies was Major General Darrell Manning, Adjutant General for the State of Idaho. Additional comments were made by Larry E. Craig, U.S. Congressman for the First Congressional District, State of Idaho and by Yvonne Ferrell, Director of the Idaho Parks and Recreation Department.

The Memorial is erected in the Veterans Memorial State Park in Boise, Idaho, thus the comments by the State Parks Director.

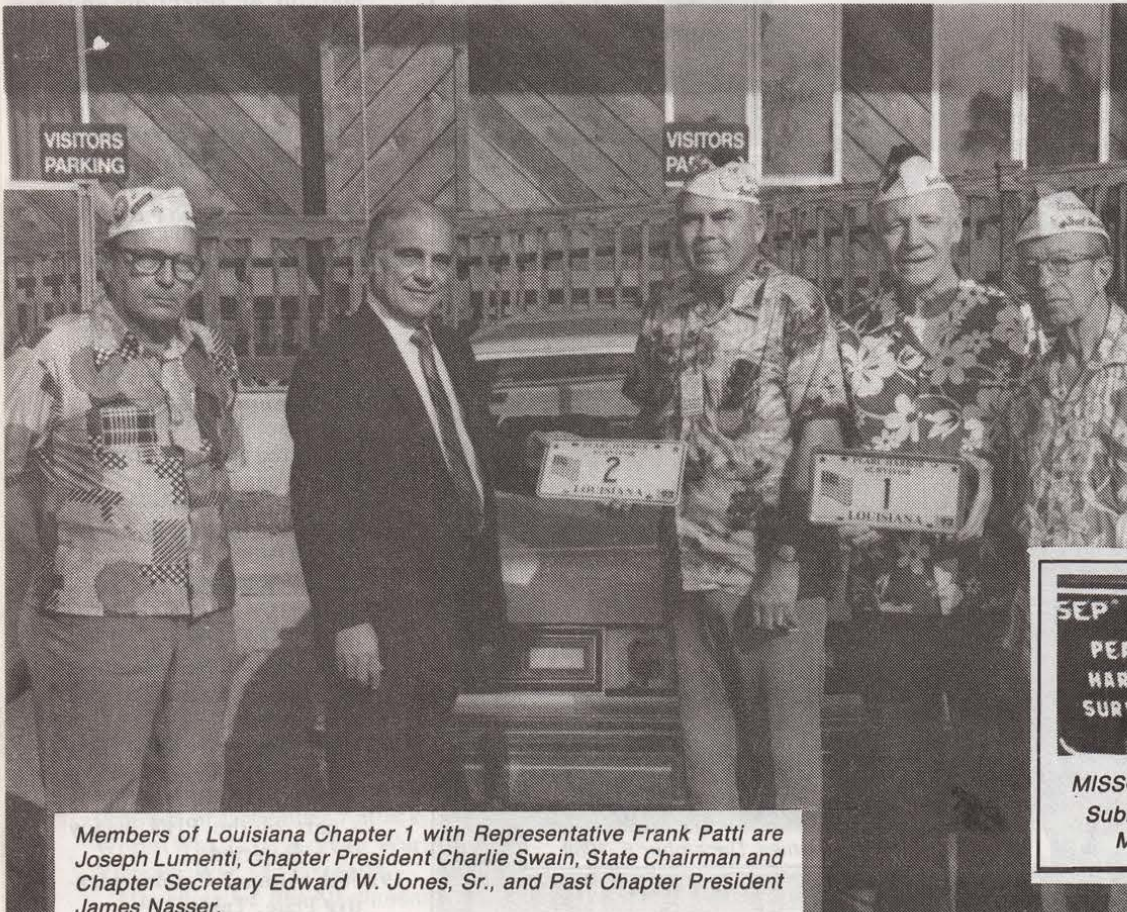

John M. Crandall, Idaho State Chairman, and Joe White, Second District Director, at the Idaho PHSA Memorial.

Report From Memorial Wall Committee

United States Air Force Academy PHSA Memorial Wall Committee reports the following:

The Memorial Wall Fund has reached its goal with the generous endowment of Mrs. Marian Siegle, in remembrance of her husband Mannie Siegle. Mannie was 8th District Director and few Survivors were ever more dedicated to the PHSA than he.

A "Well Done" to all who supported the fund drive and encouraged the effort. The contract has been let, ground breaking was held on 13 December 1988, and the dedication ceremony will be at 1155 hours, 14 June 1989, at the Air Force Academy Cemetery.

The Air Force Academy must have a count of cars and people to plan for parking and site facilities. All who plan to attend are asked to write to Mr. William V. Hanchey, Chief, Gifts and Memorials (XPAG), USAFA, CO 80840. Please respond as soon as possible. All are asked to be in place at the Memorial

Pearl Harbor Survivors Remembered at Dec. 7 Service

"December 7, 1941 — a date which will live in infamy . . ."

— Franklin Delano Roosevelt

Dedicated to those veterans who served their country is inscribed on the marble platform. Present for the memorial service was (L-R) Althea Murphey, Senior Queen of Lehigh; Hugh Piper, past commander of American Legion Post 323, Lehigh Acres; Ret. General Jim Dozier; Paul Bemis, president of Southwest Chapter 5 Pearl Harbor Survivors; the Rev. Dewitt Farabee; Jim Carlisle, state commander of VFWI Bill Egan, vice president of Lee County Joint Veterans Association; and Ross Gilligan, Lee County Veterans service officer.

Reprinted from the Lehigh News

The Pearl Harbor Survivors Association held a memorial service at Lee Memorial Park on Dec. 7, to remember living and deceased members of the Armed Forces who were stationed at Pearl Harbor 47 years ago when the Japanese bombed the United States fleet.

Retired Army General Jim Dozier gave the keynote speech, saying the U.S. must never let another Pearl Harbor happen again. He said currently the United States has the best trained peacetime Armed Forces ever; this includes day and night fighting forces.

"Members of a select group directly involved with the Armed Forces of the United States exclusively took part in an event which shows the problem with the lack of a prepared military," Dozier said. "To keep defense of the United States strong, Armed Forces must be able to deter aggression so this will not happen again."

NATIONAL CONVENTION 1988

The National Convention Chairman, Co-Chairman and Tidewater Chapter 2, wish to thank the many survivors, wives and guests who attended the National Convention at Virginia Beach.

For fear of omitting someone, I will not attempt to name all the people who were instrumental in making this convention a success.

It's very gratifying to see our great effort bear fruit after years of planning.

I also wish to thank the great number of attendees who took the time to express their appreciation or complain for our effort. The letters are still coming in extolling the success of the convention at Virginia Beach, Virginia.

Those who did not attend, for whatever reason, missed out on a very good time and we all missed you and hope you all missed us as well.

John Korba,

National Convention Chairman, 1988

Fourth District Convention In Missouri

By Ray L. Bohnenkamp

The Fourth District Convention was held in Cape Girardeau, Missouri, on September 16 and 17.

Missouri Chapter 3 hosted the affair. There was a very good attendance, about 100 persons at the dinner.

George Slavin, Past National President and his hard-working wife, Wanda, both did a good job keeping everything running smooth.

Curtis Schulze was re-elected Fourth District Director. Leonard Webb was re-elected Missouri State Chairman. National President David P. Bedell attended and gave several speeches.

Two of the candidates for National Vice President were in attendance, Jerry Glaubitz and Julius Finnern.

Tennessee, Texas and Arkansas State Chairmen were also there.

Missouri license PHSA was signed by the governor on August 14, 1988.

Missouri Chapter 12 placed flags on the graves of their deceased members on Sunday, December 4, 1988.

On December 7, 1988, they held the annual ceremony on the minesweeper, USS Inaugural, a national landmark in St. Louis, MO.

A wreath was dropped on the Mississippi River at 11:55 a.m. C.S.T., the exact time of the attack in Hawaii. Captain John A. Fears, USN commanding officer, Naval and Marine Corps Reserve Readiness Center in St. Louis, was the speaker.

He spoke with great praise of those men who died on December 7, 1941, and of those who carried on to win the war. He also talked of the readiness of our present Armed Forces. About 60 persons attended the service.

Mahoning Valley, Ohio Chapter Update

By John Horm
Past Ohio State Chairman

At the January meeting of the Mahoning Valley Chapter of the Pearl Harbor Survivors Association at Abruzzi's Cafe 422, in Niles, OH, the site for the 1989 Ohio State Convention was discussed, and the Best Western East Liverpool was chosen. The dates will be September 21, 22 and 23.

Names for the keynote speaker were discussed and those chosen to be invited were East Liverpool's own Lou Holtz, Senator John Glenn, and Admiral Grace Hopper. Admiral Hopper is the first woman admiral in the U.S. Navy and the first to retire at the rank of admiral. There will also be a flag raising on Saturday morning, Sept. 22.

The 50th anniversary reunion in 1991 at Pearl Harbor was discussed. The approximate cost for 13 nights in Honolulu will be about $1015.00 per person from Pittsburgh and Cleveland, $1115 from New York. Other gateway fares will be available soon.

USS Conyngham Reunion

By Dick McCrum
Florida Chapter 146

Below is a photo of members of the USS Conyngham DD-381 who were at Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941. It was taken at our last reunion in Omaha, NB, in 1988. We had 52 crewmembers of the Conyngham present at the meeting with the addition of spouses. It was quite a reunion.

Of the 52 crewmembers present, we had two former ship's captains, two engineering officers, a supply officer, a communications officer, gunnery officer and varied crewmembers. Capt. Bampton, one of the "skippers," said he believed we could have safely put the old ship to sea with this crew if she was still among the commissioned list of Navy ships.

One of the crew at the reunion meeting, during the introduction and roll call, made a statement which bears repeating. James A. Crislip said, "It is difficult to talk about the war (WW II) to civilians or to sailors who haven't seen action."

"There is a fraternity that exists among those who have been through combat that does not exist among anyone else. No one would go through it for all the considerations or all the money in the world, but once you have, it stays with you and the others for eternity."

Jack Dawson, our chief reunion man and our president, signed up some of the above crew at the meeting in Omaha. We meet again in Pasco, Washington, in June 8-11, 1989, when Ray Bailie hosts our third reunion.

We are quite proud of our turnouts and believe the number present at our past and future reunions is substantial for only a "Tin Can."

Northeast Florida Chapter 6

By William Tardiff
Chapter 6 Historian

We presented our school program to over 5000 Duval and Clay County Jr. and Sr. high school students this year.

This program, with the attack on Pearl Harbor movie, memorabilia, question and answer period, is an outstanding lesson in history. Most of the students never knew that anything like this had happened.

We had two teams, this year, to cover more schools.

Crewmembers of the USS Conyngham

Note From The Treasurer

As you all have noted in the January '89 Gram, your Treasurer's Office has been moved from the East Coast to more in the central part of the States.

Everyone is welcome to stop in if you are traveling through the area. Rusk, TX is located south of Tyler (just off I-20). If you are traveling by camper or R.V. Rusk has a wonderful state park to stop at.

You should also note that the office now has a post office box address. If any member or chapter seeks information regarding memorial plaques or money matters, you are encouraged to phone or write at any time.

Handbook Changes And Corrections

It is requested that ALL Handbook Holders make the following changes and corrections to their Handbook.

January 7, 1989

Changes and corrections to the Constitution and By-Laws and the Handbook issue dated 1988 changed by membership action at the convention in Virginia Beach, VA, December 5, 1988.

PHSA HANDBOOK

Front Cover. Lower right hand corner add, "Revised and corrected 1989"

National Constitution and By-Laws.

Under Article V para. 4f add:

- g. The National Secretary shall receive and process all applications for membership and forward the funds so collected to the National Treasurer for recording and deposit in the Association accounts.

In conjunction with the processing of applications for membership, the National Secretary shall process all address corrections and furnish a listing to the National Treasurer for recording on the Members Dues Record Card.

The National Secretary shall maintain the Membership Roster and shall furnish copies, semi-annually, to the proper officials, national and state, as required. The initial distribution shall be within thirty (30) days of the end of the calendar 4th quarter (January) and the second distribution shall be made within thirty (30) days of the end of the calendar 2nd quarter (July).

Article V para 5k

Delete entire paragraph and substitute the following:

- k. The National Treasurer shall provide the National Secretary with the names of all dues-paying members upon receipt of the dues remittances so that the Membership Roster will be current at all times. This action will provide the National Secretary with the authority to remove from the rolls of members in good standing, those who have not forwarded their annual dues by the end of ninety (90) days after the close of the fiscal accounting year (December 31). The fiscal accounting year is from October 1 to the following September 30.

The National Treasurer shall furnish, to the National Secretary, the names and addresses of all members who reinstate their membership during any fiscal year.

Article XIV, para. 7a

Delete the entire paragraph and substitute the following:

The dissolution of PHSA Inc. shall be effected in accordance with the laws of the State of Missouri only after approval of a Resolution of the Executive Board by at least two-thirds (2/3) of the votes entitled to be cast by members present at a meeting called by written notice to all members, for consideration of such dissolution. The Sons and Daughters of Pearl Harbor Survivors Incorporated is hereby designated as the successor non-profit organization to which assets will be distributed.

Article VII, MEMBERSHIP

Add a new section as follows:

ASSOCIATE MEMBERSHIP

1. All members of the Sons and Daughters of Pearl Harbor Survivors Incorporated may become associate members of local chapters of the Pearl Harbor Survivors Incorporated. They may participate in all meetings and functions but may not hold elective office or vote.

Article VI, under "Honolulu, HI..... 12-5-86"

A Great Love Story Which Ended On The USS Arizona

Submitted By

William P. Rush

6th District Director, PHSA

The Day of Infamy will be a day to remember forever for Matalie Harper Johnson, widow of the late Commander Dr. Samuel E. Johnson, who was killed on the USS Arizona when it was sunk by the Japanese that day.

Matalie thought he was on his way home to the home he had built for them and their retirement years on Fifth St. in Clanton, Alabama. Their story was a true life love story from the beginning until that fateful day of December 7, 1941.

Miss Matalie — Mrs. Samuel E. Johnson — these words mean so much to so many who live and cherish this dear lady and has been a part of Central Alabama. Mrs. Johnson celebrated her 98th birthday on January 11,

She and Sam became friends when she was 10 years old and remembers them picking wild flowers. It seems they were forever sweethearts.

After growing into a lovely young lady and marrying Dr. Sam, the couple had a wonderful world of traveling and seeing so many memorable places around the world.

Mrs. Johnson's two-story brick house is where she has lived these years, since 1941, without her beloved husband (still entombed on the USS Arizona in Pearl Harbor).

She has always flown an American flag and when it is very quiet in the driveway, all you can really hear is the soft crunch of feet treading in the small gravel. There is much time to reflect on what a war cost a man and the woman he loved.

It is a poignant love story with no ending except in the blue waters of Pearl Harbor where the hulk of the USS Arizona is at rest.

However, with her great strength, she carried on by herself. Miss Matalie used to wear a silver bracelet that Dr. Sam had given her.

One day, a friend and she happened to meet in the post office in Clanton, Katie Jackson who introduced her granddaughter, Kate Jackson.

Kate jumped back somewhat frightened by all the jingling and jangling of the utterly fascinating bracelets worn by this world traveler.

Kate's grandmother said that "Sam Johnson never loved anyone but Matalie. He always loved her so much." It certainly seems to have been true for all to observe.

The years have come and gone since the Day of Infamy, but it is doubtful that Miss Matalie has ever forgotten much of that time — the hearing of the news — the day — the time.

May there be no more love stories ripped apart by war. May peace reign as quietly and softly as the small gravel at the home Dr. Sam never got to know. May the horrors and losses of war remind a world of the need for everlasting peace.

The Kate Jackson of this story is the movie and television actress we all know — a "Charlie's Angel."

We are grateful for the information contained in this true life love story to a close personal friend of Mrs. Johnson, Madge Mullins Wilbanks, for many years a reporter for the Independent Advertiser, Chilton County, Alabama.

Survivors Remembered . . .

Members of the Pearl Harbor Survivors at the service wore Hawaiian print shirts and leis around their necks. Paul Bemis, president of the Southwest Chapter 5, put a memorial wreath in front of the marble platform in honor of the dead servicemen.

Barney and Monica Benning, of Ft. Myers, were dating and both were stationed at Pearl Harbor when the attack occurred. Mrs. Benning was one of two nurses on duty at Hickam Field's Station Hospital on the fateful morning.

"The hospital opened in November, and there were only 30 beds," she said. "I was getting some aspirin when suddenly there was the sound of a plane like it was going to crash; we ran out and saw this black billowing smoke. We could see the Red Sun (Japanese flag) on the plane and knew we were in trouble."

Mr. Benning was across the harbor stationed in Ft. Weaver. He was moved to his anti-aircraft coast artillery unit when the fighting began.

After all the tragedy of Pearl Harbor, the Bennings were married in August 1942.

PEARL HARBOR SURVIVORS gathered at Lee Memorial Park on Dec. 7, to remember the sneak attack that signaled the U.S. entry into World War II. The group, numbering more than 50 and clad in Hawaiian print shirts, were not alone. They were joined by numerous organizations from around Lee County and by local residents who came out to honor the living and the dead.

PEARL HARBOR SURVIVORS ASSOCIATION, INC. FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

Board of Directors
The Pearl Harbor Survivors
Association, Inc.

I have audited the statement of assets, liabilities and fund balance — cash basis of the The Pearl Harbor Survivors Association, Inc. as of September 30, 1988, and the related statement of revenue, expenses, and changes in fund balance — cash basis for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Trustees of the Association. My responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my audit.

Except as set forth in the following paragraphs, I conducted my audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that I plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement.

An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. I believe that my audit provides a reasonable basis for my opinion.

I was not present to observe the taking of the physical inventory at September 30, 1988 (stated at $5,972), and the Association's records do not permit adequate retroactive tests of those inventory quantities.

As described in Note 1, the Association's policy is to maintain its records on the basis of cash receipts and disbursements; consequently, certain revenue and related assets are recorded when received rather than when earned, and certain expenses are recorded when paid rather than when the obligation is incurred. Accordingly, the accompanying financial statements are not intended to be presented in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

In my opinion, except for the effect of such adjustments, if any, as might have been determined to be necessary had I observed the taking of the physical inventory, the financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the assets, liabilities, and fund balance of The Pearl Harbor Survivors

Association, Inc. as of September 30, 1988, and its revenue, expenses, and changes in fund balance for the year then ended, on the basis of accounting described in Note 1.

My audit was made for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. Schedules A through H are presented for the purpose of additional analysis and are not a required part of the basic financial statements. Such information has not been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements, and accordingly, I express no opinion on them.

NOTE NO.

1. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The Association is a nonprofit tax-exempt entity as defined under Section 501 (c)(19) of the Internal Revenue Code. The Association is federally chartered and is operated exclusively for purposes beneficial to the interests of the nation and its uniformed services personnel, their dependents and survivors.

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared principally on the cash basis, with the following exceptions: (a) Deferred Life Membership Dues are recorded as they accrue; (b) Prepaid Convention Expenses are deferred until the year of the convention; and (c) Interest Income on zero coupon bonds is recorded ratably over the period to maturity (See Note 3).

Inventory is priced at lower of cost or market value, on the first-in-first-out method.

2. DEFERRED LIFE MEMBERSHIP DUES

Current Deferred and Long-Term Deferred Life Membership Dues are carried as liabilities. Life Membership Dues are presently amortized over 10 years whereas Annual Membership Dues are recognized in the year received.

3. MARKETABLE SECURITIES

The Association purchased units of Easy Growth Treasuries in January 1983, at a cost of $59,943 with a face value of $137,940 maturing on August 15, 1991. These zero coupon bonds sell at a discount and do not pay any interest or principal until maturity. The financial statements reflect these investments at amortized cost with an effective interest rate of 10.1%.

Cost	59,943
Interest recognized to 9/30/88	44,382
Amortized cost	$104,325

4. PRIOR PERIOD ADJUSTMENT

Fund balance previously reported at September 30, 1987, in the amount of $52,690 has been decreased by $7,973 to reflect a change to the interest method of amortizing bond discount as required by APB opinion No. 21.

5. DEFERRED REVENUE AND RESTRICTED CASH

Deferred restricted support represents contributions restricted for the construction of a Memorial Wall. This income is deferred until expended for the purpose of the contributions. At September 30, 1988, there was $25,529 of restricted cash held for the construction of the Memorial Wall.

6. RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

The Association pays rent to certain of its officers for the use of space in performing their duties.

Pearl Harbor To Highlight Pasadena Rose Parade?

January 11, 1989

Pasadena Tournament of Roses
391 South Orange Grove Blvd.
Pasadena, CA 91184

Dear Tournament of Roses:

As I was watching the Tournament of Roses Parade come down Colorado Avenue, on Jan. 2, 1989, an idea came to me about the parade. For the Tournament of Roses Parade for 1992, could one of the sponsors or an organization have a float in the parade representing the Pearl Harbor Survivors Association? It would represent the 50th year of the bombing of Pearl Harbor and America going to war.

The theme of the parade could be used as the freedom of America, fighting for freedom, or any other theme along those lines. I am a Pearl Harbor survivor and belong to the Pearl Harbor Survivors Association, Chapter 14, located in Los Alamitos, CA. On the float, it would be nice for the various services to be represented by a Pearl Harbor survivor.

In the event that other information is needed, please feel you can call me. I will be more than happy to give you any information that you may need. . . My name is Donald A. Weir, 410 20th Street, Huntington Beach, CA 92648.

Hope to hear from you in the future. Donald A. Weir

Dear Mr. Weir:

Thank you for your recent letter regarding the 1992 Tournament of Roses Parade.

Your suggestions will be shared with Robert Cheney, who will serve as President of the 1992 Tournament of Roses.

We appreciate your interest in the Tournament of Roses and wish you all the best in the New Year.

Sincerely,
Public Relations Staff Coordinator
